This is actually a blank space for some reasons and since I already named the files, I find it too troublesome to re-do them xD

Well Friendship Scans is still recruiting!!! We have so many projects waiting to be worked on but due to lack of better raws Translators and Editors most of them ended up erm > > a lil bit forgotten

Raw providers What do they do?? What are they even??? Well as the name implies they provide raws If you happen to have raws of any of our project please drop us an email What you have may save a lot of lives (Editors life xD) so just email/message us We don't bite

Also we need raws in different languages that is for translation purposes If we have raws in Korean Viet or Jap for example, provided we have Translators for the said languages then multiple TLs can workon them = faster release xD
